to understand use, too often result in research outcomes that construct the female participants as technically impotent and the male participants as inherently savvy [6]. The experiences of the users in the studies are then uncritically universalized as representing women in general, which further enforces negative stereotypes.

Women are people too: The problem of designing for gender people. Perhaps this is because I have been blessed with spiritual African eyes at a time when most Africans have had their eyes poked out. So, like most ghetto girls who haven't yet been turned into money-hungry, heartless bitches by a godless money centered world, I have a problem: I love hard. Maybe too hard.

girls who participate in sports tend to become sexually active later in life, have fewer partners, and, when sexually active, make greater use of contraception than non-sporting girlsxxvii. Projects are currently underway in the developing world that use sports participation as a strategy for empowering girls to avoid high risk sexual ...

GIRLS PARTICIPATION IN ACTIVITIES AND SPORTS BENEFITS

The young girls of color that first encountered the "come too" movement in community centers and classrooms and church basements were there not only because they needed a safe space, but because they needed their own space.
